Kent in Germany.

Kent. Report is changeable, tis time to looke about,
The powers of the kingdome approch apace.
Gent. The arbitrement is like to be bloody, fare you well sir.
Kent. My point and period will be throughly wrought,
Or well, or ill, as this dayes battels fought.

Enter Edmund, Kegan, and their powers.

Baſt. Know of the Duke if his laſt purpoſe holde,
Or whether ſince he is aduiſd by ought
To change the courſe, he is full of alteration
And ſelfe-reprouing, bring his conſtant pleaſure.
Reg. Our ſiſters man is certainly miſcarried.
Baſt. Tis to be doubted Madam.
Reg. Now ſweet Lord,
You know the goodneſſe I intend vpon you:
Tell me truly, but then ſpeake the truth,
Do you not loue my ſiſter?
Baſt. I honor'd loue.
Reg. But haue you neuer found my brothers way,
To the forefended place?
Baſt. That thought abuſes you.
Reg. I am doubtfull that you haue beene coniunct
And boſom'd with her, as farre as we call hers.
Baſt. No by mine honor Madam.
Reg. I neuer ſhall endure her,
Deere my Lord be not familiar with her.
Baſt. Feare me not, ſhe and the Duke her husband.

Enter Albany and Gonorill with troopes.

Gon. I had rather looſe the battell
Then that ſiſter ſhould looſen him and me.
Alb. Our very louing ſiſter well be-met,
For this I heare the King is come to his daughter
With others, whom the rigour of our State
Forc'd to cry out. Where I could not be honeſt
I neuer yet was valiant: for this buſineſſe
